NEW COACHING ERA BEGINS

HEAD COACH

AL SHERMAN
Brooklyn College

1st YEAR
Hartsdale, N. Y.

COACH: A new era begins for the Football Giants this year as youthful Al Sherman steps into the head coaching job vacated by Jim Lee Howell at the end of the 1960 season. At 39 years of age, Sherman is one of the youngest head coaches in the National Football League—and also one of the most capable. Sherman moves into the head coaching spot after serving for two seasons (1959-60) as offensive aide to Howell. Under Sherman, the Giant attack finished first in team passing in the NFL, second in scoring and eighth in rushing en route to winning the eastern title in 1959. Al's career with the Giants spans two periods. He was backfield coach under Steve Owen from 1949 to 1953, and one of his first jobs was the conversion of a rookie named Charlie Conerly from a single wing tailback to a T-formation quarterback. When Owen left in 1954 and Howell took over, Sherman moved to the Canadian League as head coach at Winnipeg (1954-55-56) and made the title playoffs three straight years. He returned to the NFL as a personnel scout for the Giants in 1957, and served in that capacity until replacing Vin Lombardi as offense coach in 1959. Prior to entering the pro ranks, Al coached at St. Joseph's Prep in Philadelphia from 1946-47, and was part-time backfield coach at Gettysburg College in 1953. In 1948, as player-coach, he led the Paterson (N. J.) Panthers to the American Association title.

PRO: Sherman was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles in the war year of 1943, and played with coach Greasy Neale's club for five seasons, until 1947. He was never more than a second-string quarterback with Philadelphia, but Neale often credited him with having "one of the sharpest football minds in the business."

SCHOOL: Attended Boys' High in New York City (1935-38) and then played four years of football under Lou Oshins at Brooklyn College. In 1942, Sherman's junior year, Oshins installed the then-new T formation and put Al at quarterback. The lefthanded kid was so adept at running the Brooklyn T that the Eagles' scouts immediately grabbed him to operate the Eagles' T.

PERSONAL: Sherman was born February 10, 1923. He and his wife Joan have three children, Randy, Lori and Robin. Al's hobby: looking at football films after the family has retired for the night. "I never get tired of football," he admits. In the off-season, Al represents the Cellu-Craft Products Company.

GIANTS' ASSISTANT COACHES

DEFENSE

HARLAND SVARE

Washington State; Giants

2nd YEAR

Los Angeles, Calif.

COACH: Moved up from the player ranks in 1960 to take over as defensive coach after Tom Landry departed to head the Dallas Cowboys. Also saw action as a linebacker during his first year of coaching, but has now decided to concentrate solely on coaching. Under Sware in 1960, the Giants led the NFL in rushing defense, holding the opposition to 3.2 yards per carry. Sware again will be assisted by end Andy Robustelli and safetyman Jim Patton, who will serve under him as player-coaches with the defensive unit.

PRO: Sware was the No. 17 draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in 1953, and the following year they traded him to the Giants. He was a mainstay of the great New York defensive teams from that time right up until this year. Played right linebacker under Landry, who calls him "one of the smartest defensive players I ever coached." Sware was known for his hard, vicious tackles and was one of the few men ever to knock Cleveland's Jimmy Brown over backwards in a head-to-head collision. One of his biggest thrills was intercepting a Norm Van Brocklin pass in 1959 and running it back 70 yards for a touchdown.

HARLAND SVARE (Continued)

SCHOOL: Starred at Washington State as a regular defensive end but also saw considerable offensive duty in 1953. Once caught three touchdown passes against Idaho. Played in East-West game as a fullback.

Returned to Chicago after military service in 1946 and played in 24-14 world title victory over Giants at Polo Grounds in 1946.
